Mark's ability to interact with people at every level, from clientele to vendors, both in person and on the phone, is exemplary. In a business usually laden with stress, it was always a pleasure to work with Mark. No matter how hectic things got, his calm and decisive manner always prevailed.

It is without question that I recommend Mark Fought for any position he might seek with any company. In my 23 years in the restaurant business I never worked with a finer individual, one that I could trust without reservations of any kind to get the job done. He would make an excellent addition to any staff.
